Our cookie policy details what information we collect and how we use your information.

1. Our website uses cookies.

1.1. By using our website, you consent to our use of cookies in accordance with the terms of this policy.

1.2. Cookies are stored in accordance with EU Cookie law to help improve your user experience & gather more anonymous information on your browsing habits through Google Analytics.

1.3. If you are not happy about cookies being stored while browsing the website, you can disable cookies in your browser although this will likely have a detrimental effect on your browsing experience of this website.

2. About cookies

2.1. A cookie is a file containing an identifier (a string of letters and numbers) that is sent by a web server to a web browser and is stored by the browser. The identifier is then sent back to the server each time the browser requests a page from the server.

3. Our cookies

3.1. We use both session (destroyed when you close your browser) and persistent cookies (remains when re-opening the website) on our website.

3.2. Cookies that we set on your computer can be identified by the domain name.

3.3. We use cookies on our website to recognise a logged in user, analyse the use of the website & improve the usability of the website.

4. Tracking/Analytics cookies

4.1 We use Google Analytics to analyse the use of our website.

4.2. Our analytics service provider generates statistical and other information about website use by means of cookies.

4.3. The information generated relating to our website is used to create basic usage reports about our website.

4.4. Our analytics service provider's own privacy policy is available at: <http://www.google.com/policies/privacy/>.
